SOCIETY DO

Women's Organizations.

Mrs. R. S. Peterson will entertain the Carnation club this afternoon, at her home on Myrtle avenue, with 500 and luncheon.

Miss Dorothy Winans was hostess to the sewing club of the Trinity Methodist church on Thursday morning at her home, 1119 Arizona street. The house was decorated in pink and white sweet peas. During the morning, fancy sewing was done and later a light luncheon was served. Those present were Misses Maud Brown, Rena Snow, Margaret Cunningham, Juanita Smith, Lila Thomas, Fra Thomas, Winifred Davis, and Mesdames M. C. Terkes, J. C. Ballard and H. Lee. The hostess for the next meeting will be decided later.

The final and written examination of the Red Cross first aid class was held in the downtown hotel at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. H. B. Durkee was in charge of the class. Dr. C. P. Brown was also present. Those who took examination were Misses Edna Roodell, Mary Gates Redmond, Lila Pfeiffer, Mesdames W. Rader, F. D. Scotten, L. Van Natten, M. G. Gadder and C. L. Smith. There will be a called meeting of the Red Cross society this evening at 8:30 o'clock at Cleveland Square for the purpose of showing the public the need of organized work. Dr. Paul Gallagher, Dr. Hugh Crouse and others will speak. Dr. Ida Bishop, president of the local chapter, will have charge of the meeting.

The society girls of the town who have lost their military escorts by their call to the front, are not to be outdone by the activity of their sweethearts for the cause of the country. All over the east the girls and young women of the cities are forming "Girls National Guards" and the local girls have taken it up with the enthusiasm seldom shown in any of their movements. The organization of the guard is now under way. Each girl is to choose for herself which line of work she cares to do, and she will then perfect herself in it, so that in time of war she will be of service to her country. Accordingly, the work has been divided into three distinct divisions. The first one is "First aid to the injured." The girls are to know how to make splinters, roll bandages, do diet cooking and correct use of the tourniquet and the hypodermic. Even if only one of these are perfected by the girls, they are desirable candidates for membership. All trained nurses are put with this class. The next division is "First aid to the soldiers' families." Under this head, the girls must know how to care for children, read and write letters and make beds. The third and last division is "First aid in general utility." In this division driving and in understanding the use of an automobile or a knowledge of stenography or telegraphy are the necessities required. Doctors will be chosen to instruct the young women in the work of the first division, and other instructors will be secured for the other divisions. The age limits of membership are between 14 and 20 years. Miss Bettie Berrien is the organizer and when the work is completed, if she is still in charge, the title of "lieutenant" will be conferred upon her. There will be a meeting of the guard on Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the chamber of commerce.
